Title of the Project : History of the Video Games in France

Type of Project Submitted : Website

Summary of Learning from the project (Mapped with Expected Learning Outcomes): (50–100 words):

The project is mapped with the expected learning outcomes by developing our French language skills, research ability, communication, teamwork, creativity, and basic web development skills. Through studying the history of video games in France, we gained knowledge about French culture, technological development, and the growth of the gaming industry. Designing and presenting the website helped us apply our learning practically, organize information effectively, collaborate as a team, and communicate our findings clearly.
